Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts; single copy, 1 cent.
Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.
Frank E. Langley, Publisher.
Published Every Weekday Afternoon.
Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.
SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1903.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,623

The Randolph Herald and News ventures the opinion that if a man were to be arrested on the charge of intoxication, simply because his breath was "scented," there would be "lots doing."

It would not be at all surprising if the rumors of a revolution in Turkey were to be realized in earnest before long. The Sultan is, and has been for years, taking just such a course as would tend to stir up the blood of revolutionists.

The new time-table on the Central Vermont railroad, with its two additional trains in and out of Barre, as outlined in yesterday's paper, will be a decided gain for the patrons of the road in this city. In Montpelier and in Williamstown. It will tend to lessen to a considerable extent the complaints which are continually arising over the poor train service which the road affords. Two additional trains in and out of Barre daily will add much to the convenience of local patrons.

Rev. W. H. H. Avery of St. Albans says that Vermont's license law is "a damnable law" and that "we will not give it a fair trial." The question arises, to whom does the Rev. Mr. Avery refer when he says "we"? He can hardly be talking for even the opponents of the law because the most of them, in a fair-minded way, have shown their breadth by saying that they will give the law a fair trial, and then let it go down or remain, as it merits. He cannot be talking for the supporters of the law, and it must be concluded, therefore, that the "we" refers to Rev. W. H. H. Avery.

"The next presidency is settled," says Senator Redfield Proctor. By such profound and mysterious utterances has our senior Senator attained the reputation of being one of the prime movers of the universe. And through the same agency have many people of the state been led to believe that any new political move in Vermont, east side, west side, or any side of the state, has been set in motion by this same crafty politician. Crafty he is and gifted with an unusual power of argument, but Senator Proctor is not the actor of all things, wise and otherwise, in Vermont. Admittedly, however, he does exercise a considerable influence in Washington affairs, and his political fences in various sections of Vermont have received much repairing of late.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

For suburban service, where great pull at starting is needed, the weight of the locomotive is now concentrated on the smaller wheels.

When all the railroad plans under consideration are completed New York city will have the largest number of palatial terminal railroad stations in the world.

The preserving plants are now moved on cars to where the ties are delivered to the railway. In retorts holding 500 ties each the sap is forced from the pores in the ties and salt solution put in its stead.

What is probably the biggest locomotive in the world has been completed at Schenectady, N. Y., for hauling freight over the Rocky mountains. It measures seventy feet and on a level track can haul a train of cars a mile and a half long.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

A hail storm passed over North Randolph Wednesday afternoon of last week. Some of the stones measured five inches around and two and one-half inches across. They broke lights of glass in some of the houses on the hill.

Loyal I. Wright of Cornwall, claims the distinction of being the only man in the state who voted for General Andrew Jackson for president in 1832, and he has been a faithful disciple ever since. Mr. Wright walked a distance of thirteen miles, from Cornwall to Weybridge and back. He is 92 years of age.

It has been known for some time that a company of Western gentlemen had succeeded to the ownership of the property located a few miles east of Middlebury, formerly known as the Addison County Marble works, with a view of again working the quarries. The property was abandoned when the company failed some years ago, owing to a depressed state of the market, and the excavations in the quarries became filled with water.

Lightning struck the herd of cows of Elwin Flint of Bethel, seven in number, Wednesday afternoon of last week, killing the entire herd. The cows were near the division fence between farms of Mr. Flint and John Aldrich, and the same bolt killed two for Mr. Aldrich. Mr. Aldrich carried $200 insurance on his stock in the Vermont Mutual, which protects against lightning. Mr. Flint carried no insurance and the loss is a hard blow to him. The neighbors of Mr. Flint are raising a purse of money to help him out.

Mrs. Charles Sumner and son, Clyde, of Ludlow made a strange find one day last week. They were on the mountain side fighting fire when they saw a lynx emerge from a hollow log lying on the ground. On examining the log they found three young lynxes on the inside, probably not over a week old. These were taken to the house and have since been kept alive with the assistance of a cat and a bottle. While being fed from the bottle the little fellows scratched, squealed and fought, and Mrs. Sumner has been obliged to protect her hands with gloves.

WAIFS FROM RUSSIA.

Half the newspapers and periodicals published in Russia ($72 in number) are of official character.

A Russian charitable association at Vladivostok is sending out traveling parties of oculists to give free treatment to the poor.

Russia controls the platinum market. The Ural mines furnish 8,800 pounds a year, the rest of the world hardly a thousand. The price is nearly $300 a pound, as the supply is not nearly equal to the demand.

Two young Russians, Arsen and Paul Draginow, have, according to a dispatch from St. Petersburg, wagered $10,000 that they will accomplish the journey around the world on the back of a camel within one year from starting.

THE DEADLY AUTOMOBILE.

Even Spain, land of bullfights, is now hostile to road races of automobiles.—New York Tribune.

Since the latest auto race in Europe the horrors of war do not seem so dreadful.—Toronto Mail.

They might arrange an automobile race course in the desert of Sahara. The ground there is flat and the place not much frequented by pedestrians.—Baltimore American.

The Home-made petticoats wear. You can get one from $1.00 up to $10.00 each at Veale & Knight's.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

What she Needed.
"I suppose that Miss Dymonds sent for her doctor when she fell on the stage and broke her arm?"
"No; she sent for her press agent."—Puck.

A Helping Hand.
The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the earth. But the hand that beats three acres—Bet on that for all you're worth.—Chicago Tribune.

Without Any Frills.
"He is a literary man, you say?"
"Well, no. He's too successful for that. I think perhaps it would be better to call him a writer."—Chicago Post.

Unexpected.

"Hello, Uncle Silas. We've come to spend our vacation with you."
"Well, if that ain't lucky! My hired man left me this mornin', an' you're jest in time to pitch in an' help with the farm work."—San Francisco Examiner.

The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd"

Let us assume that your Shoes fit you. Now what next? What is most important? Unquestionably style. Demand that a Shoe shall possess style. If it has style and little else, you want it. If it has not style, but everything else, you don't want it. The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd" is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is a totally different construction from any other ladies' Shoe made. It holds the foot firmly at the waist—that's the instep—and prevents the toes from slipping forward, thus giving a correct poise in walking. Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it. Just for once try the Style of a "Dorothy Dodd." Sincerely yours,
